The Conductor

Since 1953, JOHN P. PAYNTER has been Director of Bands at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, where he presently serves the School of Music as Professor and Chairman of the Department of Conducting and Performing Organizations, and, in addition to heading the bands, teaches courses in conducting, band arranging, band techniques and orchestration. He is conductor for the University's musical productions, including the famed Waa-Mu Show. Under his direction the Northwestern University "Wildcat" Marching Band, the Concert and Symphonic Bands and the Symphonic Wind Ensemble all rank with the finest of their kind.

Paynter was born and raised in Mineral Point, Wisconsin where he received his early training in music. He entered the School of Music at Northwestern University in 1946 and earned BM and MM degrees in theory and composition in 1950 and 1951, and served as Acting Director of Bands in 1950-51 while working toward his Masters degree. At age 23, he was appointed to the full-time faculty in 1951, and became Director of the Marching Band and Assistant Director of Bands as well as Instructor of Theory. In 1953 he succeeded Glenn Cliffe Bainum to become only the second Director of Bands in the history of Northwestern University.

Paynter is presently musical director and conductor of the internationally famous adult community band, the Northshore Concert Band of Wilmette (Illinois); editor of the New Music column of the Instrumentalist music magazine; an active composer and arranger with some 400 works to his credit. Invitations to lecture and guest conduct have taken him to forty-seven of the fifty states, and to Canada, Europe and South Africa. He has been honored with awards from such distinguished societies as Pi Kappa Lambda, Phi Eta Sigma, Tri-M Modern Music Masters, Phi Beta Mu, the National Band Association, the School Musician and the National Association of Music Clubs.

As one of the leading band conductors in America, Paynter has gained the respect of musicians everywhere, as evidenced by his high standing in the organizations he serves: the American Bandmasters Association (currently President); the National Band Association (co-founder and Past-President); College Band Directors National Association; Music Educators National Conference, and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia (life member).
