

DR. KENNETH STEINSULTZ

Kenneth Steinsultz was born and raised in Harrisburg, Illinois where he attended Harrisburg High School. His band director was Curtis Burklow.

He earned a BS in Music Education from Quincy University, MM and DMA (Doctor of Musical Arts) from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Steinsultz has taught at Brown County High School in Mt. Sterling (IL), Lewistown (IL) High School, and is currently Director of Bands and Professor of Music at the University of Evansville.

His most memorable performance was the University of Evansville's Wind Ensemble concert at the CBDNA North Central Regional Conference at Iowa State University.

Dr. Steinsultz and his wife Jill have two children: Maddi and Drew.