

WILLIAM TIMMERMAN

William Timmerman was born and raised in Portage (IN) where he attended Portage High School. His band directors were Martin Sensenbaugh and Robert Symer.

He is a graduate of Ball State University with a BS in Music Education and a MALS.

William has taught at Portage Township Schools in Fegely Middle School and Portage High School.

Mr. Timmerman has been recognized by the Portage Chamber of Commerce as Educator of the Year, and he has served as Treasurer of IAJE and as a member of the ISSMA Marching Band Committee.

His most memorable performance was listening to his students perform at the ISSMA Jazz State Finals.

William and his wife Barbara have two sons, Kyle and Nathan.